

Decades Project

Agenda:

- ★ Accessing Databases
- ★ Researching Your Decade
- ★ Note-taking and Plagiarism
- ★ Citations with NoodleTools
- ★ Works Cited with NoodleTools

Learning Goals:

1. We will use databases and sources in the library to research information about our assigned decade.
2. We will cite our sources and construct a Works Cited correctly using NoodleTools and OWL Purdue.

Search Terms

You will need to think about search terms.

Rarely, in research, do you find everything you are looking for in one source or with one search term.

Think about what search terms will help you to find the answers from PART of your question.

Your decade: 1910, 1920, 1930, etc.

What specific information do you need?

Fashion

Dance

Transportation

Politics

Use synonyms and/or more specific words to narrow your search.

For example:

Transportation - Automobile

Automobile - Car

Clothing, 1930–45

When it comes to fashion, the 1930s was a complex age. On the one hand, fashions were deeply influenced by the economic depression that gripped the Western world throughout the 1930s; on the other hand, fashions in the 1930s were very elegant, with clothing trends largely determined by the tastes of the very wealthy, especially movie stars and other celebrities. Strangely, these two influences

A Note About Credible Sources

If you Google something, do NOT just use the information from the Google preview.

Do NOT simply click on the first link either.

Once you click, THINK:

- Is this website an authority on this topic? How do I know?
- Is this website trying to persuade me in some way (emotionally, financially, politically, etc.)
- Can I verify this information in this source with another credible source?
- Dig deeper into where this information came from and what clues you can use to tell if you can trust the source or not.

Note-taking vs. Plagiarism

Note-taking

Reading information from a source and paraphrasing the information.

Plagiarism

Copying information from a source word-for-word and passing it off as your work.

Do NOT simply copy and paste information from your source into your presentation. The information on your slide should be in your own words.

“In the 1930s a section of the Great Plains of the United States—extending over southeastern Colorado, southwestern Kansas, the panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma, and northeastern New Mexico—was called the Dust Bowl. This name was coined to reflect the conditions that occurred after overcultivation, drought, and dust storms hit the region.

The area’s grasslands had long supported mostly cattle and other stockraising. When World War I began, however, millions of acres of grasslands were plowed under in order to grow wheat. Years of overcultivation and generally poor land management in the 1920s followed. In addition, the region, which typically receives an average rainfall of less than 20 inches (500 millimeters) in a typical year, suffered a severe drought in the early 1930s that lasted several years. The region’s exposed topsoil, which no longer had the anchoring, water-retaining roots of its native grasses, was carried off by heavy spring winds. “Black blizzards” made up of windblown soil blocked out the sun and piled the dirt in drifts. Occasionally the dust storms swept completely across the country to the East Coast. Thousands of farming families were forced to leave the region at the height of the Great Depression in the early and mid-1930s” (Dust Bowl).

Notes

- Dust Bowl
- Great Plains
- 1930’s
- too much farming, not enough water, dust storms

- Farmland was mismanaged - plowed and overworked in the 1920s
- Not enough rain
- Topsoil blew away without roots of grass
- Heavy dust storms (“Black Blizzards”) traveled across the U.S.
- Thousands had to relocate due to unusable farmland during the Great Depression

Citations with NoodleTools

What is a citation?

A formatted way to share with your reader where your evidence came from.

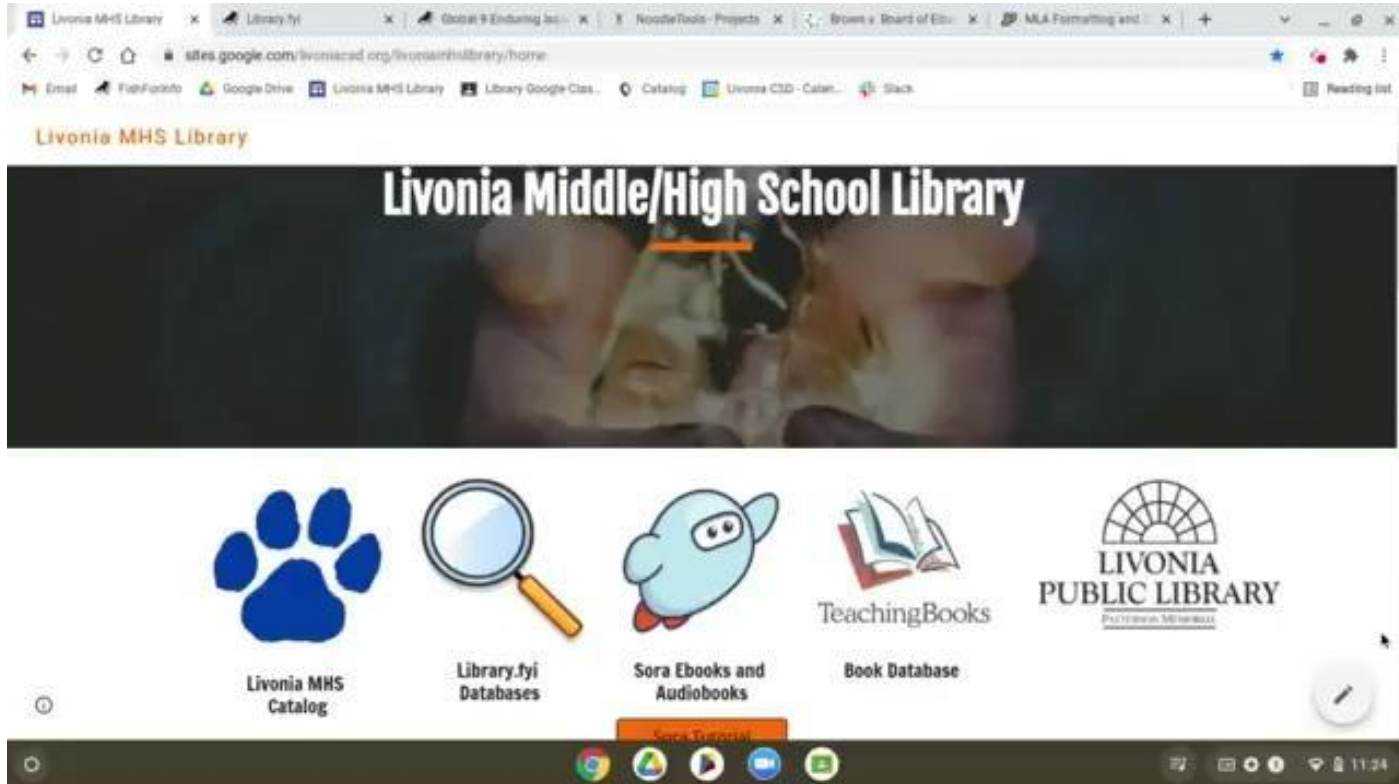

Why do I need to cite my sources?

- ★ To give credit to the author(s) for the work he/she/they produced (avoid plagiarism)
- ★ To allow your readers to fact-check your work
- ★ To provide information to your readers to find your source and read it themselves
- ★ To make your work more credible
